LIVESTOCK FEEDS

When Owen Kruse founded Kruse Farm Supply in 1959, manufacturing and selling large animal feed to farmers was the main thrust of the business through the 1970s, when cattle, hogs and chickens were being raised in large numbers in Northern Elkhart County. But now, times have changed and the business has branched out into different directions, but providing feed and feed supplies for large domestic animals remains a large part of the business.

➤ All the really good ideas I ever had came to me while I was milking a cow.

We are a supplier of several "big name" food companies, which lets us fulfill the animal feed requirements at any stage in their lives. From Nubian goats to ostriches; from horses to monkeys; and from chickens to rabbits, we strive to carry the freshest and most complete line of large animal feed at competitive prices for our area. Among the brand names we carry are Purina Mills, ADM, Kent and a variety of custom mixes,
